Democrat Wins in Close Race in Maryland

OFF YEAR ELECTION WATCHED CLOSELY BY PARTY LEADERS

COOLIDGE WINS SMASHING VICTORY FOR GOVERNOR OF MASSACHUSETTS

OHIO GOES DRY

New Jersey Elects "Wet" Candidate on President's Ticket.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Baltimore, Nov. 5.—Albert C. Ritchie, democrat, was elected governor of Maryland today in a victory of approximately 900 votes at yesterday's election in Maryland, according to unofficial returns. It was the closest election ever held in Maryland.

More complete returns today on the off-year elections yesterday in several states did not change the outcome in any important respect. The smashing victory of Calvin Coolidge, republican, in Massachusetts, re-elected to succeed himself as governor by the largest vote ever polled by a gubernatorial candidate in that state, secured honors with an almost equally decisive "dry" victory in Ohio as the most striking result of the voting.

Results closely scrutinized. As a possible indication of the drift of popular sentiment preparatory to the national elections next year, yesterday's results were being closely scrutinized by party leaders. Kentucky was swept into the republican fold in the gubernatorial fight, but today's returns made it certain that New Jersey had reverted to the democratic column.

Looked upon as a complicated fight in at least two states. In Massachusetts the strike in Boston was said to have unseated the purely party division of the polls. Edward L. Long, democrat, defeated the republican candidate, but appealed to the labor vote while Governor Coolidge stood squarely against unionism in dealing with the Boston police strike and rallied a plurality of almost 125,000.

"Wet" Candidate Wins. In New Jersey, Edward L. Edwards, democrat, running on a "wet" platform, had an apparently safe lead of almost 15,000 over the republican candidate, but the legislature will be republican by a narrow margin.

The defeat of Gov. James D. Black, democrat, for re-election in Kentucky, where Edwin P. Morrow, his republican opponent, was credited today with a plurality approaching 30,000, probably will be more discussed than any other state result by party managers who have their eyes fixed on next year's campaign. Previous democratic majorities were upset in some parts of the state.

The wet and dry issue also entered into the Kentucky contest, a state-wide prohibition amendment apparently having been defeated decisively.

Democrat Wins Vote. Loe M. Russell, democrat, was elected governor of Mississippi. He was opposed by a socialist, Samuel R. McCall, who was defeated. The legislature will be solidly democratic.

In New York state, the election in the senate of the supreme court, Tammany Hall candidates suffering complete defeat. In the city, Representative Robert L. Moran, the Tammany democrat, for president of the board of aldermen, but an official count may be necessary.

In Philadelphia, Representative J. Hampton Moore, republican, scored an easy victory for mayor. In Erie, Pa., where the republican, J. C. Smith, was swept into office as mayor for the third time in a non-partisan fight, J. C. Smith, former Mayor Eugene B. Schmitt.

CUPID'S ARROW HITS TWO, NAME IS SAME
One and one usually makes two but sometimes one and one makes one. This is true in the case of two who will become one as soon as the state law's machinery unwraps the red tape which binds Wisconsin's couples. They both have the same name and will continue to wear it through the remainder of life's journey.

CAPTAIN TURNER ANSWERS INQUIRY ON LUSITANIA SINKING

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, Tuesday, Nov. 4.—Secret evidence in the inquiry into the sinking of the Lusitania, reveals that Captain Turner had been warned by the admiralty to avoid the headlands on approaching the coast. Turner testified that he was justified in coming within 10 miles of Old Head of Kinsale (near where the Lusitania was torpedoed) to fix his position. If he had remained longer out of sight of land, he declared, the weather might have become foggy and he would have been worse off.

Captain Turner claimed that the coasts he steered was far enough from the Lusitania to be safe in mid-channel. He was trying his best, he said, to follow the admiralty instructions but his aim was to find land.

The evidence shows that the admiralty instructed Captain Turner to keep a mid-channel and avoid the headlands because submarines appeared to be operating chiefly off the prominent headlands. Captain Turner said he thought 10 miles was a sufficiently wide berth. He admitted that he kept a long distance off Fastnet in order to avoid submarines. Later Captain Turner proved under cross examination, said he was steering a course that would have taken him close to the Conningbeg light ship and was not in mid-channel because he understood there were submarines in mid-channel.

Two Irish Parliaments Is New Plan Accepted

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, Nov. 5.—The cabinet committee on Ireland yesterday accepted the proposal for the creation of two separate Irish parliaments—one for the protestant counties of Ulster and the other for the remainder of Ireland—with some form of supreme authority representative of both to embody the idea of a united Ireland, says the Daily Mail.

FACTORIES COME TO FRONT IN RESPONSE TO RED CROSS DRIVE

WORKERS DILIGENT IN CAMPAIGN FOR 10,000 MEMBERSHIPS IN CITY.

TOTAL NOT GIVEN

Ward Captains' Reports Expected to Swell Record of Subscriptions.

100 PERCENT UNITS.
Turner Garage, Janesville Auto Company, Keweenaw Garage, Myers Hotel, Frick Printing Company, Hough Barber Shop, Ziegler Clothing Company, Johnson Grocery, Shindoff Company, Golden Eagle, Hanson Furniture Factory, Engineers' Department Samsom Tractor Company, Post Office, Chamber of Commerce, Day & Scarff Company, H. A. Ford Company, Sammie Sisters.

Optimism prevailed today at Red Cross headquarters as a result of the third day's drive for 10,000 memberships in this city. No statement of the total for the second day was given at the chamber of commerce because the ward captains were unable to turn in their reports, last evening. The first day's mark was 1,004.

Enthusiasm of workers continues as they meet daily with the spirit of co-operation of those solicited. One woman who was asked to renew her subscription, said: "You bet I will subscribe to the Red Cross. It was the Red Cross that helped me when I was unable to secure pneumonia jackets. The local branch helped us all through our illness."

Factories Come to Front. Factories are coming to the front with their subscriptions earlier in the drive than ever before. Noticeable in the third call is the interest which the heads of the factories are taking. Many of the men have made speeches and urged their employees to subscribe. The Hough Shade and Gazette Printing Company were solicited this afternoon.

Mrs. J. H. Leary said this afternoon that she expected every business house to go 100 percent. Many of the stores which are not new 100 percent have had the most two subscriptions, which will no doubt be made this week.

Workers Are Diligent. Ward captains are working diligently, each trying to make her ward first in number of subscriptions. A full report of the work done in the wards is expected to be made this evening at the Chamber of Commerce.

Five more days remain for Janesville to reach the 10,000 subscriptions. Continued generous response on the part of the public will make it possible for this city to go over the top before another day has elapsed, the belief of those on the committee.

WORKING WOMEN NEAR END OF CONFERENCE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Nov. 5.—Although the delegates called today to reach an agreement on the details of a resolution relative to legislation for the care of mothers and babies, announcement was made that the first international working women's congress would adjourn tomorrow. The proposal to extend financial assistance to every woman at child birth continued to meet the opposition, especially from the French and Belgian representatives, who insisted it should be given only to wage earners and to the wives of wage earners.

A resolution favoring a reduction of night work for women from 10 to 8 hours of a provision that men, too, should be prohibited from working at night except in continuous industries of public necessity.

SAYS WORLD LIVES IN FOOL'S PARADISE OF MAD ILLUSIONS

New York, Nov. 5.—The world lives in a fool's paradise based upon flimsy wealth, rash promises, and blind illusions, declared Paul M. Warburg, formerly vice-governor of the federal reserve board, on his return from Europe last night.

"The disease is world-wide," he said. "It has spread too far to enable us to deal with it as a whole. The first step is to prick the bubbles of false promises and to begin clearing the world balance sheet of its assets as far as possible."

"Europe needs our products and requires them largely on credit," he added, "and it is our duty to furnish these goods."

PARDON SOUGHT FOR BEER BOTTLE TOSSER SERVING 3-YEAR TERM

Attorney Louis Avery Will Present Petition to Governor for Harold G. Smith.

Efforts are being made to secure a pardon for Harold G. Smith, Rockford taxi driver, who threw a beer bottle through the windshield of the F. A. Capelle auto on the night of Nov. 17 and who is now serving the first year of his three year term in the state penitentiary at Waupun. Governor Emanuel L. Philipp will hear the petition for Smith's pardon a week from today, Nov. 12.

Facts of the case became known today with the statement of Attorney Louis Avery that he was acting for Smith in the matter and that he had taken all the necessary steps to bringing the petition to the governor's attention. Mr. Avery will go to Madison Wednesday in the hope of securing the pardon or at least obtaining a commutation of Smith's sentence.

As required by law in such cases, District Attorney S. G. Dunwiddie and Judge H. L. Maxfield and the warden of the state prison have been asked to write letters to the governor.

Smith Pleaded Guilty. Smith pleaded guilty to the charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm when he was arraigned in municipal court a few days after the occurrence on the Beloit road and was sentenced to three years. He admitted throwing the bottle which broke the windshield of the Capelle car, injuring Mr. Capelle and endangering the lives of four women who were with him, but said he did so because the lights on the Capelle car were not dimmed while passing, and that he was drunk at the time. The petition for pardon is being made on these grounds, Mr. Avery states.

Smith were to be brought before me today on the same charge and under the same circumstances I would not give him a sentence of anything less than three years," said Judge Maxfield today when asked about the petition for a pardon. "It was one of the most foolish acts of which I have ever heard."

His defense, that the Capelle lights were not dimmed is nothing more than a trick to get the case before the jury and the jury's verdict. "He was drunk and admitted it and threw a bottle in entire disregard of the lives of five people," said Judge Maxfield.

The car at the time—he was not driving as many supposed. He said the lights bothered him by shining in his eyes and that he had turned his head toward this true because he was not in control of the machine.

"The statement that my sympathy was shown him and that he was granted a pardon on the grounds that he has a wife and three children dependent on him is a poor argument," said Judge Maxfield.

"TIGER" PRESCRIBES WORK FOR UNREST

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Strasbourg, Tuesday, Nov. 4.—Premier Clemenceau's speech here today, according to political circles, was a warning to France against party politics. It was for the most part a plea for universal tolerance and a warning to the working man throughout the world to resume labor's pre-war methods and "work."

M. Clemenceau declared that no good could come from the present close relations between the state and the church was quite discernible, as he remarked:

"Religious peace must be assured, and liberty of conscience must rule."

The day will go down in Strasbourg's history as one of its greatest. The welcome given the premier here today was a triumph for the working man in France.

"This is not enough," he said. "An attempt must be made to restore the spirit of the league of nations."

Government Protests Kentucky Judge's Decision

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Nov. 5.—The government today appealed to the supreme court from the decision of Federal Judge Evans of Kentucky, declaring unconstitutional the war-time prohibition act and ordering the release of distilled spirits held in bond at Louisville. A request to advance the case for early hearing is said to be planned.

LADY ASTOR STIRS BRITISH

Lady Astor.

London, Tuesday, Nov. 4.—Lady Astor's smart appeal to hecklers as becoming a feature of the daily newspapers which are reporting campaign with unusual prominence. She related today that Lady Astor was accosted by a woman with an electoral question which the woman introduced with "your ladyship" to this Lady Astor retorted "please wash that out."

Lady Astor told the story of how she saw a young American sailor looking at the outside of the house of commons. She asked him if he would like to go inside, to which the sailor replied with dignity "you are the sort of woman my mother told me to avoid."

After loud laughter by her hearers had subsided, Lady Astor added: "You know we've got to take risks. You know, nothing risked, nothing won."

It looks as if an American-born woman had taken the first word in view of Lady Astor's well-known disregard of conventionalities, and because she was born in America.

For Lady Astor has decided to accept candidacy for the parliament, and her popularity bids fair to "see her through."

She will run for the place in commons vacated by her husband, Major Waldorf Astor, who has succeeded to the title and seat in the house of lords left by his father, the first Viscount Astor, who died recently.

If Lady Astor wins the election—and she is expected to, because her many philanthropies and her unconventionalities have brought her much in public favor on the other side—she will be the first woman ever to sit in parliament.

The real rub is that Lady Astor is not "English born." Politicians admit her popularity and regard her chances of election as excellent because of the large Unionist majority in Plymouth.

The idea of a woman in parliament is a shock to the conservative elements in Britain, particularly in view of Lady Astor's well-known disregard of conventionalities, and because she was born in America.

LABOR PROPOSAL TO VACATE INJUNCTION IS NOT ACCEPTABLE

GOVERNMENT DECISION MEANS LONG FIGHT IN COAL FIELDS.

SHORTAGE FELT

Montana Reports Lack of Fuel; General Situation Is Little Changed.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Nov. 5.—Authority to regulate the price, distribution, production, sale, shipment, apportionment and storage of all coal, including anthracite, and coke was given federal Fuel Administrator Garfield today by an executive order signed by President Wilson.

Washington, Nov. 5.—The government cannot accept the proposal of organized labor to end the coal strike by vacating the injunction against the officials of the United Mine Workers of America. Assistant Attorney General Palmer, announced today that the government could not abandon its position because the strike was in violation of law.

Refusal of the government to vacate the injunction means a long fight in the coal fields, while its withdrawal would have opened the way for settlement of the strike within 48 hours, according to Edgar Wallace, legislative representative of the United Mine Workers of America.

Refusal of the government to vacate the injunction means a long fight in the coal fields, while its withdrawal would have opened the way for settlement of the strike within 48 hours, according to Edgar Wallace, legislative representative of the United Mine Workers of America.

Representatives of the mine workers were figuring on actual steps to adjust differences at scale committee meetings. As a matter of fact, the miners' agents thought it would be unnecessary for the joint conference to be held under the auspices of the department of labor.

In view of the intention of the attorney general not to ask for vacation of the injunction labor leaders have been disturbed by news of an important move before the injunction came up for hearing at Indianapolis Saturday.

Confidential reports today to the department of justice said that 60 percent more men worked in the coal mines in Colorado yesterday than the day before. A number of mines were said to be running full force.

There will be no change at present in maximum coal prices fixed by the government. The fuel shortage is not expected to be relieved, said a delegation of operators.

Fuel Shortage Felt

Chicago, Nov. 5.—The fuel shortage was notably Montana. From St. Louis it was reported that a fuel shortage threatened. Other places, mainly west of the Mississippi, were expected to feel the pinch of the shortage. In the central and eastern districts no severe shortage today had threatened.

There was little change in the general situation. Reports from West Virginia that four union mines in the New River district were in operation and that two in the unorganized Guyan field were closed by a sympathetic strike; a threat of the North Dakota lignite miners who returned to work after one day's strike; and a statement by the warden of the Oklahoma state prison that four mines were again in operation would be regarded as the most important.

Thomas T. Brewster, chairman of the coal mine operators scale committee, announced that the operators acting individually probably would sue the United Mine Workers of America for breach of contract. He denied breaking of the contracts by the operators, who hold that the war is not yet officially over, as against the miners' claim that it has been terminated.

Illinois Leaders Watch

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 5.—The seeming disposition of high officials of the United Mine Workers of America to enter into wage negotiations with operators, suggested by Pres. Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, was being watched by Illinois strike leaders today as a possible means of ending the strike.

ALKALI IN SOAP BAD FOR THE HAIR.

Soap should be used very carefully; if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is just ordinary unsifted coconut oil, (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap, or anything else you can use. One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp cool and the hair fine, silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get multifid coconut oil at any pharmacy; it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

NEWS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

MOSS SIGNS ON THE TREES

Almost every boy and girl has heard that one way to find the north is to look for moss on the trunks of trees, that moss grows only on the north side of a tree.

But does it? Investigate the matter for yourself. It will be an interesting bit of woodwork to study.

Examine trees that stand more or less in the sunshine and others that grow in the dense shade of the woods and you will find conflicting evidence. Woodcraft, however, demands that you use your reason as well as your eyes. Begin by asking yourself why moss grows on the north side of anything. Then remember that moss grows best in the shade and requires a good deal of moisture, that the north side of an object is always in the shade and holds moisture longest because the sun can not get to it and dry it out.

But that does not apply to trees that grow so close together that their trunks get no sunshine at all. On these moss will grow as readily on the south side as on the north, and when a tree leans so that the upper side catches and holds the most moisture that side, be it north or south, moss will grow there.

It is here you must use your common sense in settling the question and choose only the trees that stand straight and have enough sunshine to dry all sides but the north. Even then one tree alone cannot always be trusted; it must be the verdict of a number, and when you have tested the signs of the agreeing majority with a good compass you will know the direction and can rely on the moss signs of the trees.

GAZETTE "NEWSIES" ORGANIZED AT "Y"

Seventy-five Gazette "Newsies" attended the supper and "got together" meeting held at the "Y" last evening. The boys were in charge of the Carl Schoof of the circulation department. Preceding the supper the boys were engaged in various forms of games in the gymnasium. Promptly at 6:30 the boys marched upstairs to the dining room for the "eat". After a bountiful supper the boys were led in singing some of the popular songs and songs by Sec. C. Preston of the boys' department. The business meeting followed the social time.

Secretary Preston put before those present the purpose of the gathering, that of arranging some one or two periods each week for the boys whose time was occupied directly after school in the distribution of the city's paper. It was suggested that two periods a week be given the "Newsies" from 8:40 to 9:30 Tuesday and Friday evenings, the periods to be in charge of A. C. Preston, C. W. Reagin and Carl Schoof of the Gazette Circulation Department. Much enthusiasm was expressed by all present at the prospects of having use of the game room at any time and the gym and swim periods once each week.

A system of weekly payments was suggested. Cards were distributed. A second meeting will be held at the "Y" at 7 o'clock Thursday evening, Nov. 13, at which time final arrangements of organization will be completed.

TRAVELETTE By NIKSAH.

THE NAVY LIBRARY. The navy library, in the state, war and navy building, is a lovely place to soak up atmosphere. Like the building itself, it is 33 years old. When it was built England, France, Spain and Italy presented the marbles of porphyry, Siena and malachite with which the walls are paneled. Mexico sent the pieces of onyx which encrust the gallery. The round stone of the windows from the ruins of Pompeii. The connoisseur in marble who visits Washington will enjoy a call here.

In the center of the large room, flanked with shelves of weighty tomes on naval matters, there is a large and important green-topped table. Around this table sat the strategic board of the Spanish-American war. Here also the naval advisory board for the great war made their secret plans and experiments. Edison, Maxin, Miller and many others conferred over it, with the windows carefully darkened, and a guard before the door.

There is a quaint side to the library, too. A little white-haired woman can be seen any time, sitting about the shades of dark, heavy books, or cutting and pasting busy in her corner by the window. This is Miss Mason, daughter of a former commander of the navy. She has been in the library 25 years. If you happen in near noon she may give you a cup of tea on one corner of her desk.

And of all charming places to have an unexpected cup of tea, with a sweet little woman, this quiet nook among the books is recommended.

SCHOOLS CLOSE WHILE TEACHERS GO AWAY

Schools in the city will be closed Thursday and Friday. Janesville teachers will attend the teachers convention at Milwaukee beginning tomorrow and ending Saturday.

Those teachers who do not leave for Milwaukee at 5 o'clock this evening will start early Thursday morning.

Supt. H. H. Faust has made arrangements for extra seating facilities for the train. Arrangements have also been made with the ticket agents for the teachers to receive a receipt when they purchase tickets. Rates of a fare and a third round trip are allowed those who will attend the convention, which makes the fare to Milwaukee $8 cents.

High School Notes

Community songs were sung by the students at the opening exercises today.

Freshmen and sophomore agricultural students are studying weeds. This morning 16 common weeds were brought into class for identification. How to eradicate them and their harm to the farmer were emphasized.

Those teachers who teach in the night school will not go to Milwaukee until Thursday morning. School will be in session this evening instead of Thursday.

Senior agricultural students are still doing surveying work. They have learned the use of the level and are now measuring the angles of the high school grounds.

Miss Florence Snyder, music supervisor, whose home is in Milwaukee, will give a week end house party for a few of the teachers who will attend the convention.

Sixty persons were served at the cafeteria yesterday noon.

The students who have the planning of the lunches for this week are Winifred Britt, Marie Brinkman, Helen Campbell, and Dolna Hammett.

The menu for this noon was wafers, sandwiches, baked apples, cocoa and milk.

HUNTING EYE TRIES TO VOTE

By H. S. Alexander

"Are you trying to vote, sonny?" a kindly faced old gentleman asked the question of our little Indian friend, Hunting Eye, who had been seen in front of a booth and had taken his place at the end of the line to find out what they were going to do.

"Vote?" asked Hunting Eye.

"Yes, vote," answered the old gentleman. "We have to have certain officers like the judge, the sheriff, and the governor to make and enforce the laws. Among your people your chief does it all and he is chosen either because he is the best fighter or the son of a chief. But among us these officers are elected by the people for whom they make and enforce the laws."

"A judge is to be elected, the persons in the county who want to be judge send in their names. The names are put on a piece of paper called a ballot. These persons are called candidates. Then the people from all over the county come to a booth like this and mark on the ballot the name of the candidate they want to elect.

They came to the door of the booth. A clerk handed Hunting Eye a ballot and he was just going to follow his kind old friend when a man standing near called out, "Here you can't vote. Get out. I'll put you in jail for such tricks."

"Why can't I vote?"

"You are not 21 years old. Only men over 21 can vote. Also a man must be a citizen of this county to vote and you aren't a citizen. Move on and let the others vote."

As the Indian boy left the booth he thought of the strange customs of these people. Among his people the old men about the council fire decided questions and made rules. But here all but the very youngest braves sat the council and helped make the laws. Hunting Eye had many things to think about as he continued his journey toward the east.

1. Why was Hunting Eye not a citizen?
2. What classes of men over 21 can not vote?
3. What is woman's suffrage?
4. What is the registration of voters?
5. Is registration a good thing?

OLD TIME FRIENDS MEET IN ORFORDVILLE

(By Gazette Correspondent.)

Orfordville, Nov. 2.—An old time crowd of 40 years ago attended the morning service in the M. E. church at Orfordville Sunday. After much handshaking at the close of service, they gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Taylor, where an old time dinner awaited them. The afternoon was spent with music, stories and laughter, in midst of which came a telegram from Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Taylor, where an old time dinner awaited them. A "labor scout" of the Du Pont Construction company, accompanied by 75 laborers, arrived in this city last night over the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road from Minneapolis and St. Paul.

The offices of the roadmaster and yardmaster of the C. M. & St. P. are now located in the rooms directly above the ticket office at the local station. The rooms have been remodeled and office fixtures installed. It is understood that the action for the improvement was started by officials of the local company several years ago, but it was not until recently that directors of the company saw the necessity of the change.

Officials of the C. M. & St. P. road here have received word that because of increased freight business at the local office an additional office is being planned for the local office. It is reported that the extra help is to start work immediately.

WHAT WILL YOU DO ABOUT YOUR CATARRH?

Improper Treatment Leads to a Serious Stage

Because you have doubtless been fairly comfortable through the mild summer months, and free from the soreness and irritation of the membranes, do not make the mistake of thinking that you are rid of your Catarrh. For if you suffered with this disease last winter it will again be with you in all its severity unless you have eliminated entirely from the blood the germs which cause the disease.

This of course you have not done if you have relied upon the usual local methods of treatment with sprays, ointments, jellies, atomizers, lotions, etc., the only possible effect of which treatment is to afford but temporary relief. For nothing but temporary relief can be expected from treatment which reaches only the symptoms of the disease.

Are you going to further temporize with a disease that leads to such a serious condition? Don't you know that you can use gallons and gallons of local treatment without the slightest permanent benefit? Just give the matter a little careful thought, and you will realize that it is but a waste of time and money, besides seriously jeopardizing your health, to continue a method of treatment that has proven of so little value in making any real progress toward genuine benefit?

First of all find out just what causes your Catarrh. If it was merely a local irritation and inflammation of the delicate linings of the nose, throat and air passages, then you might reasonably expect to be cured by the use of local remedies. But have you ever known of one single person to be freed from the slavery of Catarrh by any kind of local treatment?

Why? Simply because you have overlooked the cause of these symptoms, and all of your treatment has been misdirected. Remove the cause of the clogged up accumulation that choke up your air passages, and they will naturally disappear for good. But no matter how many local applications you use to temporarily clear them away, they promptly reappear and will continue to do so until their cause is removed.

But if you will take a treatment that goes right down to the very source of the disease and attacks it at its starting point, then you are on the right track, and can expect results. S. S. S., the fine old fifty-year-old blood remedy is an antidote to the millions of tiny Catarrh germs with which your blood is infested. A thorough course of this remedy will cleanse and purify your blood and remove the disease germs which cause Catarrh, and at the same time build up and strengthen the entire system. Don't waste further time by continuing a treatment that can make no progress toward permanent relief, but begin to take S. S. S. today, and you will receive the same benefit that others have.

S. S. S. is sold by all drug stores. Write for free medical advice about your own case to Chief Medical Adviser, 155 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

"Worth Weight in Gold" He Says

WILLHIDE WAS SO RUN DOWN CONDITION ALARMED HIS WIFE AND FRIENDS

"This Tanlae has been worth its weight in gold to me and I just feel so fine I want everybody to know about it," said Walter S. Willhide when he called at the Central Drug Co., in Milwaukee, Wis., the other day. Mr. Willhide is a well known employee of the E. J. Corbin Company at Cudahy, a suburb of Milwaukee, but he lives in Milwaukee at 75 Howell avenue.

"Why, I had suffered so long and so weak and run down that my friends were remarking how bad I looked and my wife was greatly alarmed," continued Mr. Willhide. "I don't believe any man ever suffered with his stomach as bad as I did for after nearly every meal gas would form and I would have such sharp pains across my heart that I could hardly breathe. Dull heavy headaches came on me and when they did I would begin to get dizzy and my eyes would quiver and if I didn't sit right down right away I would faint. My back hurt and pained me so bad that if anybody came up behind me and laid their hand on my back I would jump like I was shot at and my stomach hurt me so at times that I could hardly bear for my clothes to stay on me. Sometimes I had cramping spells in my stomach and I would have to bend over a box or chair or anything before I could get relief. I didn't sleep well, often I would be up half the time trying to relieve the pains in my back and stomach, and I was so nervous that sometimes I would be lying in bed half asleep and would jump up all at once when I heard any little noise out of the ordinary. My muscles at times would grip me in the legs while I was lying in bed and I would have to get out of bed and get on my feet before I could get relief. My appetite was almost completely gone and I had lost fifteen pounds in weight and was so weak and felt so bad that I could hardly do my work."

"This is the actual condition I was in and I had been suffering this way for five years when one day I saw a Tanlae statement in the paper that described my case almost exactly as I got a bottle. Well, sir, it seems like a dream to me and my wife is overjoyed and my friends are congratulating me on the way my troubles have been knocked sky high and I have been restored to complete health, and in so short a time for I've only taken two boxes of Tanlae. Why, I can eat anything I please now and never have even so much as an uncomfortable feeling in my stomach, chest or back, and I can sleep like a log and have to be called every morning. My nerves are as fine as a man could want them and my muscles don't cramp or grip me at all now, and I don't have any dizzy spells or headaches any more. Tanlae was certainly a godsend to me, and I just feel so fine that as long as I live I'll never miss a chance to praise it."

EVERYDAY HELPS

By GRANDMOTHER WELLS

Have you the right sort of kitchen utensils? It is a strange fact that very few housekeepers will give themselves the pleasure of going shopping, every once in a while, to see what is new and convenient in the 5 and 10 cent and hardware stores. They will get along with broken or missing kitchen knives, egg beaters without handles, dull cutlery, and insufficient baking and stewing pans.

Kitchen work is so much easier if you have the proper tools for it, and kitchen stools, the small ones at least—are one of the few things which are cheap.

In the first place there should be a very sharp paring knife. They can be had in aluminum, now, for 35 cents, and are more convenient in that form than with wooden handles, because they can be put into the dishpan with the silver knives and forks, without danger of losing their handles in hot water. Several broad-bladed knives of the kind are on hand, for chopping, frying, potatoes, cutting cake, and spreading butter. There should be at least half a dozen tablespoons of the kind, and a pointed spoon for turning cakes and eggs. A small paint brush is a convenient thing for greasing a baking dish or for brushing a pudding over the top with butter. There should be at least half a dozen tablespoons of tin for general use around the stove. It is very injurious to silver ones to use them for cooking. Be sure to keep a scrubbing brush just for vegetables. Potatoes need to be brushed thoroughly before being baked or boiled with the skins on, as do carrots, beets and turnips. Stuff or gem pans come in assorted sizes, containing from four to 12 apartments. It is a good plan to have both a shallow and a deep muffin pan, so that drop cakes, baked eggs, and other things requiring a low pan, will not have to be put into a deep one.

Little earthenware casseroles come in all sizes, and they are a tremendous help in cooking. The very small size is right for cup custard, or for any individual serving. There is a next largest size, about six inches in diameter, which makes a good baking dish for individual meat pies. Larger ones can be used for individual soups, or for gravies.

It will be found a time-saving plan to keep a small knife, a pair of scissors, etc., in a row along the wall nearest your work table.

Milwaukee—A warning to slothkeepers not to keep liquor in the same place that they keep soft drinks that are about to be sold was issued Tuesday by Joseph S. Gudic, in charge of the enforcement of the prohibition act in the eastern district of Wisconsin. "We are not compelled to prove that liquor is sold," said Mr. Gudic. "It is enough that the liquor is kept for sale. If a saloonkeeper has liquor on or near his bar, so that it would be an easy matter to serve it, it might be hard for him to prove that it was not kept for sale."

Kenosha—Kenosha must pay $3,000 in the cases of Henry M. Strong and George T. Smith, Waukegan, Ill., according to a verdict of the jury handed down after 22 hours' deliberation in the case of Mrs. Margaret Strang and Mrs. Bertha Smith, who asked $20,040. The men were killed April 28 when their automobile skidded into a street car. The automobile ran into a depression in the street which resulted in the accident, according to plaintiffs.

How the Experience of Years Saves Money in This Post-War Maxwell

THE run of 300,000 Maxwells to date saves you many a worth while dollar in the new Post-War Maxwell. Those 300,000 saved in many ways.

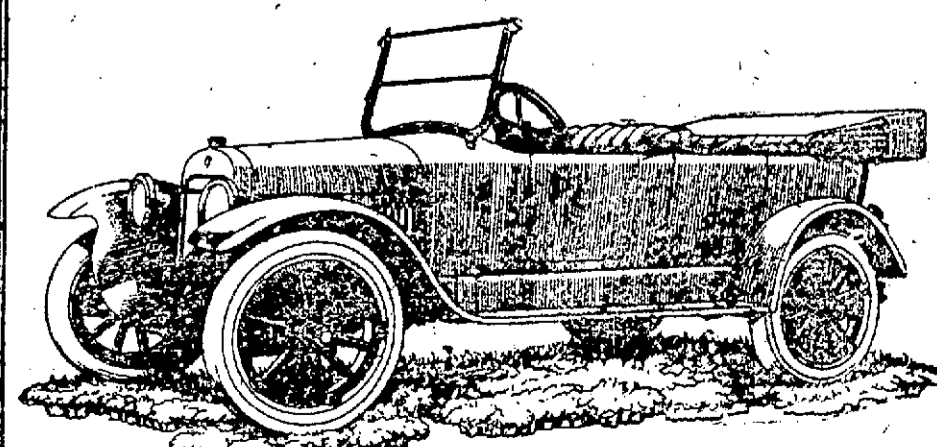

1. They taught "short cuts" in manufacturing.
2. They eliminated all experimental work—you don't have to pay for a single engineering mistake.
3. They developed quantity production which has reduced "overhead."
4. They enabled quantity purchases; and better materials are bought at lower costs.
5. They taught how to build an almost trouble-proof car; you seldom take a Post-War Maxwell to a repair shop.

6. They taught how to get the most mileage out of a gallon of gasoline, a pint of oil and a set of tires.
7. They taught how to build a car that the less skilled driver would find simple to operate and take care of.
8. They taught that it was better to build more and take less profit per car rather than build less and take more profit per car.
9. They taught how to put more and more value in the car without increasing its cost.

This Post-War Maxwell is next year's car. It contains features developed during the war, many of which will find their way into other cars in the summer of 1920.

The Gazette Stands Ready to Support all Endeavor to Make Janesville and Vicinity a Bigger and Better Community.

THE RED CROSS ROLL CALL.

The annual roll call of the Red Cross has this distinction—that, whereas on previous occasions the membership has been summoned to band for the purposes of war, we are now asked to unite for the purpose of peace; and this—that, whereas in recent months the energies of the organization have been far-furling, in the future they will be increasingly intensive in America. The work of peace at home replaces the work of war abroad. And the achievement of the Red Cross under the strain of its colossal tasks justifies confidence in wise administration of the new phases of activity it plans to assume.

The response of the people of the United States last year to the summons of the Greatest Mother in the World was magnificent. Twenty million adults, and 11,000,000 juniors were enrolled. The money from these fees was small in comparison with the gigantic total of $400,000,000 in contributions received during the war; but the moral support of the memberships was incalculable in effect. And it is this continuing moral approval that the Red Cross now asks. An enthusiastic response will be evidence that we are not charitable only under spur of necessity.

The purpose of the Red Cross should be well understood as this roll is called. As the president has declared in his proclamation, it "does not propose indefinite prolongation of its relief work abroad, a policy that would lay an unjust burden upon our own people and tend to undermine the self-reliance of the peoples relieved, but there is a necessary work of completion to be performed before the American Red Cross can honorably withdraw from Europe. Both the greater enduring domestic program and the lesser temporary foreign program of the Red Cross deserve enthusiastic support, and I venture to hope that the peace time membership will exceed rather than fall below its impressive war membership."

That there is a great need for the Red Cross at home in peace cannot be gainsaid, in view of the harrowing epidemic of influenza that swept the nation last year. The appalling shortage of nurses, physicians and supplies, due to the concentration in the battle areas, showed how pitifully inadequate are the ordinary resources of society to meet such an emergency.

To provide an ever-ready agency for these needs is the purpose of the organization in coming months. Increased facilities are planned to aid the unfortunate victims of fire, flood, earthquake, wreck, epidemic and other catastrophes that lurk no one knows where.

And, unsatisfied with this defensive effort, the Red Cross plans a completely organized campaign against disease and conditions that permit disease. A country-wide application of the belief that an ounce of prevention is worth several pounds of cure should keep many heartaches from American homes.

"EMBATTLED FARMERS" AGAIN.

Away back in the beginning, when our nation was in its birth throes, the "embattled farmers" at Lexington and Concord "fired the shot heard 'round the world."

Through all the intervening years down to the present, and as will be hereafter, the American farmer has stood for the cause of true liberty as valiantly as did his ancestors when they first fought for national independence. Through all our wars the great heart of ruralism has beat in unison with that of the city patriots, and farmers have vied with soldiers from the cities in heroic struggle and sacrifice.

In the great war that convulsed the entire world the American farmers were called upon not only to fight for humanity, but also to furnish food for our armies, for those of our allies, and for hungry multitudes of helpless men, women and children beyond the Atlantic. It was a tremendous test. None like it was ever known in history, and all the world knows how magnificently the American farmers acquitted themselves in the performance of every task and duty.

Having in mind what the farmers of our nation have accomplished at all times and under all circumstances, it is gratifying, indeed, to know they now are firing shots that are being heard all round the world of unrest. Individually and in conventions they are declaring emphatically and unequivocally against the radicalism that has been rearing its head in various industrial sections, and that has even sought domination in the agricultural regions.

The convention at Hagerstown, Md., voiced the sentiments and convictions of the farmers of the nation when it declared that "the conservation of the American farmer must be eternally on guard to prevent the development and spread of radical theories which would subvert the fundamental principles of the American government."

Such is the message of the farm to the city, and gladly it is received. There need be no fear as to the permanence of Americanism and of American institutions when the farmers and the city dwellers are thus united.

BOOZE—AND THEATERS.

Dispatches from New York City are to the effect that the cabarets are passing with the prohibition enforcement. That the entertainments in the dining rooms where the bottles used to pop are gradually being numbered among the missing. The dining public refuses to worry about a barelegged girl singing a risque song when the dining public is sober. And that, in a few words, is causing the passing of the cabarets.

But, to take the place of the cabarets, are the new shows opening and the theaters re-opening with better and bigger shows. The sober public demands more for its money, nowadays, and a few pretty girls, with scanty clothes isn't enough. The show must have plot, wit, and action, coupled with scenery and girls. The girls, of course, must be there.

And the prices! Theater managers, despite the increase granted the actors after the actor-strike, are making fortunes. Prices of an ordinary two dollar orchestra seat have gone as high as five and six dollars for some popular shows. And if a show can't charge three dollars for a two-dollar seat; that show isn't worthy the name.

New York worried when the cabarets began to go. But it isn't worrying now, with seats at the present high prices.

And all of this simply goes to show that, without booze, folks have more money to spend for legitimate entertainment. Which is not another argument for booze.

German military leaders must have devoted considerable time even during the war to proving alibis. Each

REAL NERVE.

I admire the splendid courage of the soldier in the strife Who faces death undaunted and for freedom gives his life,
And I'm sure the aviator as he speeds across the sky Is in every way a braver and a pluckier man than I,
But I sing the greater courage of the reckless youth and rash
Who braves the whole world's jeering while he's raising a mustache.

I have sat at times and marveled at some daring acrobat
And I've said as I applauded: "I would never tackle that."
I have seen brave men and fearless risk their precious lives for pay
And I've wondered at their courage, but I rise right here to say

That above these mighty heroes that across our vision flash,
I place the nifty brother who is raising a mustache.
I might in times of danger risk my trivial neck to save
A brother from disaster and a sad and early grave;
I might some day go flying in an airship through the sky
(Though I doubt it at this writing, for I have no wish to fly);

I might try some bold adventure for a bit of fame, or cash—
But I lack the nerve that's needed to attempt a cute mustache.

It Was A Good Story, But Those Days Have Gone.

McAdoo for President

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN, Director
Janesville Daily Gazette Information Bureau,
Washington, D. C.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—The democratic party will be asked to elect him, on the basis of his performances as a public executive. His friends will attempt to impress on the public consciousness the things that McAdoo has done, and will claim that in these performances he has proven himself the right man for the right job.

There really ought to be more talk of presidential possibilities. The politicians and the public men who have up their lightning rods are getting a bit peevish because the public interest is centered on such mere trifles as coal for the cellars of all of us, and establishing machinery for the conduct of world affairs in the future. They want to know who is to be the standard bearer next year. As far as the democratic party is concerned, there seems to be but a few names mentioned, and these only occasionally. The first of these is McAdoo.

This man McAdoo started out by driving the first of the tunnels under the Hudson river. It was a man's job, done like a man. He went from Tennessee up to New York and won his way to this accomplishment. He was a wiry, on-the-open executive. He got things done.

Made-New Treasury Measures.
Then he came down to Washington and became secretary of the treasury. There he made many new and big measures a reality. To be sure he worked in herculean times. But even before the war he had done big things. Think of the national board, for instance, which has put out $150,000,000 in plans to farmers at interest much lower than they have ever before received. It has made it possible for any owner of farm land to get money on reasonable terms. McAdoo, his friends say, is responsible for this. The farmers should appreciate the fact. He should get the farmer vote.

Then there is the federal reserve system of banking. It became a law and was first opened in 1914. There is a Secretary McAdoo. It has solved the currency riddle of the nation—aggravation of a century. It handled the stupendous burden of financing the war. Give the credit to McAdoo.

McAdoo was the man who first pushed the shipping board idea in congress, although the bill was delayed against his bill and delayed the legislation for two years. Other-wise the war might have been won more quickly. McAdoo was a substitute for pensions, and the war risk bureau, an agency of the treasury department, has been mailing out millions of checks ever since. There are lots of people who tie into the war risk bureau. It forms a link to service men and their families.

Got Money for War.
Then there were two stupendous notes—$100,000,000 and $200,000,000—each ranking near the top among all of the big jobs—getting the money to fight the war and hauling war supplies to the front. McAdoo was a task for a superman. But say his admirers, McAdoo handled both of them as sidelines while conducting the war duties of a cabinet member.

Mr. McAdoo toured the country when he was establishing the farm loan board, meeting men here and there, touring them when the federal reserve banks were being established. During the war he went all around the map three separate times, on all these trips he met many people, important people. He has a very wide acquaintance. People who know him are likely to be for him.

It was as a liberty loan speaker that the secretary was at his best. He warmed up on this job. He gave the impression of being an American boy, not a foreigner. He was the best in the midst of a titanic struggle. He was battling with the German. People got to feel that McAdoo was one of the fighting stuff of these true patriots. He made a lot of friends on his liberty loan drives. Every one of those loans was a stupendous success. He did the job.

Then there was the job of running the railroads of the nation, operating trackage that would reach 16 times around the world. An industry that maintained eight million people. There has been a lot of complaint against McAdoo say his friends, because of decreased efficiency in the service of the railroads. They also point to the fact that we took over the roads to accomplish the purpose of the war, not to improve the service to stay-at-homes.

Troops Were Transported.
The railroad administration, they say, transported troops to the seaboard without a hitch, and kept supplies piled up on the docks as fast as steamships could be procured to take them away. This was the purpose of the war, not to improve the service of the railroads, they are getting back to profit paying. A year of

ATTENTION Music Lovers

If you like REAL RAGTIME and popular music—if you are willing to practice an hour a day and take one lesson a week—here is a proposition that will interest you.

You can learn how to convert any piece into REAL RAGTIME, and the style of ragtime you will then be able to play is so far superior to the RAGTIME you usually hear that it cannot be classed with it at all.

You can learn how to play all popular music (songs, two-steps, etc.) with that snappy, pulsating swing that makes a person want to dance.

When you can play like this you are bound to be the most popular person in your crowd at a party, summer hotel, or wherever you happen to be. A good ragtime piano player makes a hit every time, everywhere—and you know this fact to be true.

Even if you don't know a thing about music we can teach you in 20 lessons to play REAL RAGTIME to your heart's content, and you will be able to read music well enough, when you complete the course, to learn any average popular song or ragtime two-step with a little practice, and without the assistance of any teacher.

If you already play the piano and read music, we can positively teach you (in 20 lessons) how to play any piece in REAL RAGTIME—mind you, not only will you be able to play a piece the way it is written, but you can also convert it into snappy, sparkling RAGTIME, at the same time preserving the original melody. Telephone for an appointment for your first lesson, or call and talk it over.

Advocates a TradeUnion for Clergymen

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]

London—A trade union for clergymen is advocated by the Rev. C.

Lloyd Evans, vicar of Milborne St.

Andrew, Blandford, Dorset. The pastor is busy organizing such a union, whose objects will be to obtain a living wage for beneficed and unbenef-

iced clergy, with adequate pensions on retirement at 70.

The new union, the first of its kind in the world, be known as the National Clerical union.

Small town British clergymen are notoriously underpaid, a $1,500 annual salary being considered very good.

Major to Lead Scouts.
Mantowee—Major, Carroll Nelson, formerly principal of the Junior high school, who recently returned from long service in France, will be named scoutmaster of the city if he can obtain his release as principal of the high school at Chillicothe Falls. An organization meeting of the local boy scout council was held at which by-laws were adopted.

British Women Enter Road Mending Trade

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]
London—Women have entered a new trade here—road mending. Four women wearing blue overalls, caps and heavy boots were busy spraying tar near Oxford street, the shopping district, while other women in furs and lousines passed by. One workwoman was in charge of a tar sprayer, another spread the hot tar evenly over the road surface and two other women swept small filthstones over the tar.
The women were employed by the Westminster city council and did their jobs as efficiently as men. All were married women who took jobs in order to help meet the cost of living.

American Firm at Lyons Fair Holds Novel Contest

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]
Lyons, France—An American firm rented a stand at this year's Lyons industrial fair and made great preparations for a display. But the goods failed to arrive in time. Exasperated by the delay, the manager posted this sign for visitors:
"Our merchandise for this exposition embarked at New York upon the Rochambeau Sept. 6, 1918. It arrived at Lyons Sept. 16, that is, in 10 days. The question is: How many days will it take to come from Lyons to Lyons? We offer 12 prizes to the best guessers."
Among the prizes were a sewing machine, a knitting machine and an adding machine.

Around the State.

People Eat Pork.
Milwaukee—The public is taking advantage of reduced retail pork prices, made possible by a drop in hog prices several weeks ago, according to a retailer. Pork chops have dropped 8 to 10 cents a pound and shoulders 4 to 5 cents. As a consequence people are buying pork more freely. Because of the high price of butter, rendered lard has remained at the price of two weeks ago. The bacon in the market is bound to be short-lived, said the retailer, as hogs are going up again.

Wants to Pay Old Debt.
Milwaukee—"I want to pay a debt that was contracted 33 years ago," states a letter received by the clerk of circuit court here Monday from Mrs. M. Anderson, Eau Claire.
"The creditors who did business in Milwaukee were Dutcher, Collins, Smith and Fred Gunther and the firm of M. T. Tooker & Co. I want to pay them as it is a moral obligation."
Mrs. Anderson asks who has legal authority to enter the debt. The clerk is investigating.

Legion to Celebrate.
Mantowee—Lieut. J. G. McGillion, U. S. N. Marine, will be the principal speaker at the armistice day banquet to be given by the local post of the American Legion. Lieutenant McGillion, for many years judge of municipal court, offered his yacht to the government at the beginning of the war and did patrol duty along the Atlantic coast. He was commissioned ensign and later promoted.

R. C. Has Too Much Money.
Menominee—The Dunn county chapter of the American Red Cross emerges from the war period liberally with more money than it knows what to do with. It has on hand a surplus of $18,000 after meeting all obligations to the general organization, and is asking advice from members throughout the county as to what disposition to make of the fund. This is a record which it is believed cannot be duplicated in Wisconsin.

Cranberry Marsh Discovered.
Ashland—Workers in the lumber camps on Stockton island discovered a large cranberry marsh last week, and in addition to gathering supplies for the camps, filed all the spare boxes they could get hold of and sent them to their families in Ashland. There has not been enough real cold weather to harm the fruit, and the berries are large and firm.

Noted Trapper Dies.
Ashland—Jim Stokes, a trapper and hunter, died at his residence on Long Lake. He was an associate of Billy, the Bear, another noted trapper, and the two men will be remembered by many deer hunters whom they guided during the hunting seasons of the past 30 years. Billy, the Bear, died five years ago.

Rouge and Powder Are Prohibited at Girls' School

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]
Brooklyn, N. Y.—Rouge and powder, openwork waists and short dresses have been prohibited at the Packer Collegiate institute here. An announcement issued by Miss Margaret Nelson, principal of the institute, stated that "rouge and powder were not artistic, neither are exaggerated styles. We have been compelled to tell some of the pupils to wash their faces, but that has not been sufficient." It was stated also that after a few days of gauging the amount of natural color in a girl's cheeks it has been found quite simple to spot artificial hues.

Last Chief of Seminoles Dies at Oklahoma Home

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]
Muskogee, Okla.—The last chief of the Seminoles in the person of John P. Brown died at his home in Muskogee, Okla., recently.
Brown, who served as chief from 1886 to a few years ago, when the affairs of the Seminoles were wound up by the government, was the first Indian to make a treaty between the government and his tribe in the Indian Territory.

Baby Tiger, Wrapped in Woolens, Left on Doorstep

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]
Redwood City, Cal.—James B. Logan, traffic officer, heard whimpering on his front doorstep here recently and rose from his bed to answer. There on the stoop was a basket and in that basket, carefully draped in woolens, a "baby."
Logan took the bundle into his home, called his wife, and together they opened the basket. It was a "foundling"—a baby—but a baby Bengal tiger.
"I wish it had been a real baby," said Logan. "It calls six times as much as an adult."
No one knows where the animal came from.

Clergy Asked to Observe American Legion Sunday

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]
New York—Clergymen throughout the country were requested to devote part or the whole of their sermons Sunday to the ideals for which the American Legion stands. The national executive committee asked that this, the day preceding the opening of the national convention in Minneapolis, be observed as American Legion Sunday. The official request urging the co-operation of more than 150,000 clergymen in America said in part: "The American Legion is an established fact. It is the concrete realization of that 'some sort of organization after the war' which was talked of in every cantament in America, aboard every ship of the navy and in every unit and section of the A. E. F. It is the crystallization of the wish of every soldier, sailor and marine to organize after the war. In union there is strength, and in this particular union there will be found the bulwark of Americanism."

Polish Peasants Live On Bread Made of Grass

Washington—Living upon bread made from grass, nettles and heath, peasants are returned to the former homes on the eastern border of Poland and the western border of Russia, which they evacuated during the war, declares an announcement for the United States department of agriculture.

Food conditions, due to lack of cultivation, are wretched but the shortages in eastern Europe for the most part are local. "Wheat bread is common in all markets except those of Germany, where white bread is not to be had. Throughout Germany the entire acreage is under cultivation, although it is presumed the yield will be below normal, due to the lack of fertilizers."

Belgium is highly cultivated with good crop prospects, while France and England have both been affected by drought, and their prospects in bread grains are not encouraging.

Heroes Plan Drive on Conscientious Objectors

Concordia, Kan.—The Concordia ex-soldiers who fought in France are preparing a "drive" on the conscientious objectors that will make many of those who proclaimed themselves at Camp Funston as the "pets" of the secretary of war to think that they had better leave Kansas. A list of every "c. o." in the state is being prepared by George T. Davies Legion post here and copies will be sent to every other post in Kansas. They will continue their efforts to have an investigation of the actions of the secretary of war in giving the "c. o." an honorable discharge, and they will make efforts to have the Kansas delegation to the Minneapolis convention press the investigation.

5,000 Dogs Killed in Connecticut by Wardens

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]
Washington—Dogs killed more than 5,000 dogs in Connecticut during the year ending September 30, announces the United States department of agriculture. Many were killed while interfering with sheep. Less injury to flocks has resulted than in any previous year, due, perhaps, to the so-called "roaming-dog law" which went into effect July 1.
Sheep industry in Connecticut has increased 33 and one-third percent in the past two years and is still growing.

HIGH INDIVIDUAL AVERAGE

Merrick	490

Capt. Newman's cracking Arcade five kept up its championship winning streak at the Arcade alleys last night, defeating the Samson Tractor five in two games out of three although not surpassing the shop gang in total pins.

Gazette stars came back strong after their disastrous defeat last week and triumphed over Capt. Cunningham's Rails in two games of three in this game, the Rails secured the more pins but only copied one round.

By its two game win last night, the Arcade five advanced in first position with the Hub and Lawrence teams following in a tie for second place.

Lawrence with 204 and Paulas with 203 were high men in the Samson-Arcade game, while Cornell with 220 and Billy Heise with 200 were high men in the Gazette-Rails contest.

Cornell went into third place in the high individual score column with his 220 mark.

The peculiar feature of last night's games developed when scores were totaled. If total pins were counted, the Rails and Samsonians would have been declared victors but as separate games make up the league's percentage the other two teams led. The scores:

DEMPSEY SIGNS TO MEET JOE BECKETT IN NEW ORLEANS

Mobile, Ala., Nov. 5.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, signed an agreement in Mobile yesterday to fight Joe Beckett, the English heavyweight champion, in New Orleans next March 17, according to an announcement here last night by Dominick Tortorich, New Orleans fight promoter. The bout is conditional on Beckett winning his forthcoming fight with Georges Carpentier, the French champion.

The bout will be for twenty rounds and Dempsey, Tortorich announced, will receive $25,000 as his share.

The champion affixed his signature to a contract after a conference here today between Jack Kearns, his manager, and Tortorich. The conference, it was said, was brief, and Dempsey quickly assented to the conditions and purse following the agreement between Kearns and the promoter.

Beckett will meet Carpentier in December. Tortorich said that should Carpentier win he would instruct his representatives in London to attempt to sign a contract immediately for the French champion to meet Dempsey.

FOOTBALL INTEREST WANING AT MADISON

[By Gazette Correspondent.]

Madison, Nov. 5.—With the first defeat, at Minnesota's hands, interest in football is on the wane at Wisconsin university. The Badgers have resumed light practices in preparation for the undefeated conference leaders, Ohio State.

The battle with Coach Will's eleven is still more than a week away, so the Wisconsin gridders will probably wait until the beginning of next week to launch a siege of heavy practice. Interest in the pigskin will probably be somewhat revived by that time.

Ohio State is as yet undefeated, but some of its hardest games are still to be played. The doxyers still hold the strength of the champs in team in doubt, and look for the next two performances to show just how strong a claim they can lay to the honors.

Jack Wilce, Ohio State coach, played on the Milwaukee High school football field in his younger days when he attended west division. He also played with Wisconsin university, being chosen an all-western man.

Chicago Boy Breaks Race Record At Yale

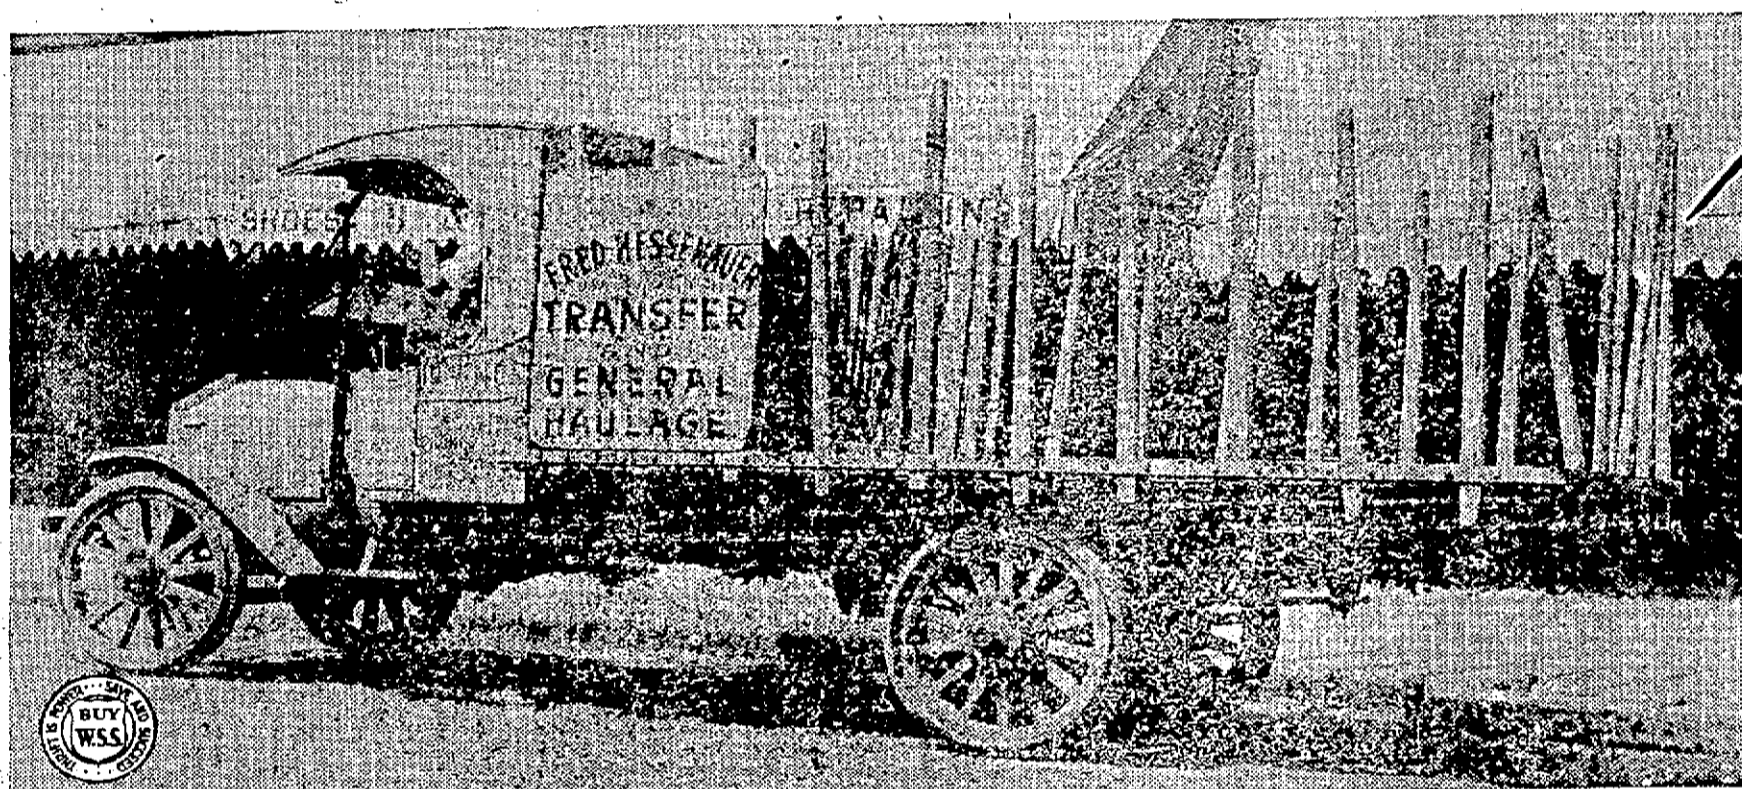

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 5.—Thomas Campbell, Chicago, who holds the world's 600-yard indoor record, and who entered Yale this fall as a freshman, yesterday ran an exhibition race for that distance at the fall track meeting. He was paced by W. M. Smith, 1920, and R. C. Page, 1922, finishing the distance in one minute four seconds. His indoor record is one minute and thirteen seconds, and the world's outdoor record is one minute ten seconds. Campbell captured the mile run in four minutes forty-three seconds.

FIGHT DECISIONS

Joe Benjamin outboxed Joe Welling in eight rounds, Johnny Dundee stopped Tommy Tonley in five rounds and Angie Ratter bested Sol.

Bonnie Valgar shaded Johnny Drumme in eight rounds at Newark, N. J., got a decision over the Jamaica Kid in twelve rounds at Boston.

Mike Dundee defeated Tony Capone in ten rounds at Waterloo, Ia. Johnny Noye stopped Battling

These Goodyear Solid Tires on the Hessebauer Transfer Company's truck are smooth, unchipped, and still strong with brisk, live rubber, after 40,000 miles of hard use

After 40,000 Miles Mr. Hessebauer's Goodyears Are Smooth and Strong

"After getting the service that we have out of our present equipment of Goodyear Solid Tires we do not hesitate to say that they are far superior to anything that we have ever used or have ever seen in use. Our 2 1/2-ton truck averages many miles per day over all kinds of roads and into all kinds of places and so far the tire equipment has given us 40,000 miles of uninterrupted service, and they have worn down just as smoothly as though they had been buffed. In fact, there is not a chip out of either side of the tires, and the rubber is still very lively, with enough rubber left on the base to probably afford us many thousand more miles."

—F. Hessebauer

A MILEAGE record is being made here in Janesville, by Goodyear Solid Tires on the Hessebauer Transfer Company's truck, that means money savings.

If you are a buyer of truck tires, we suggest that you take time to look at these tires, which to date have delivered more than 40,000 miles. This opportunity is available nearly every day, as the truck works about the city constantly.

Note the things that Mr. Hessebauer points out in his letter: even after 40,000 miles the tires are as smooth as if worn down on a buffing wheel and are good for many thousand more miles.

Here again is evidence of what the combination of Goodyear Truck Tires and Goodyear Truck Tire Service will do. This service helps you select exactly the right type of Goodyear Tire, be it a Goodyear Solid, Cushion or Cord Pneumatic; it saves truck time and insures proper mounting of tires; it protects Goodyears by tire conservation methods until they have delivered their full mileage.

The Gasoline which Helped Win the War

To the Motoring Public:

"The U. S. Government does not determine quality by gravity test, nor is it included in their specification requirements."

GRAVITY has no relation to quality, power, or thermal efficiency of gasoline for automobile use.

Gravity test is a delusion. The tendency of the motoring public to adhere to this delusion is fostered for what there may be in it by those ignorant of scientific facts—and this position has cost the motoring public hundreds of thousands of dollars yearly.

Specifications for Navy Specification Gasoline and U. S. Motor Gasoline were drawn up by oil experts, scientists, practical engineers, and by men having the widest experience, knowledge and accepted reputation.
